BIOENERGY BALANCING

BIOENERGY BALANCING

BIOENERGY BALANCING IS A PROCESS THAT IS SOUNDLY BASED ON YEARS OF PRACTICAL AND CLINICAL EXPERIENCE IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF ENERGY BALANCING TECHNOLOGY. THE SPECTRAVISION DEVICE USED FOR BALANCING ENERGY IS UNPARALLELED IN ITS ABILITY TO ISOLATE THE ISSUES AND BLOCKS THAT ARE MOST CRITICAL FOR YOU TO ADDRESS.

REGAINING HARMONY MAKES SYMMETRY IN MOTION THAT BRINGS INNER PEACE, AND PHYSICAL AND EMOTIONAL REVITALIZATION.

BALANCE IS THE KEY!

“Efficient flow of energy is essential to wellness; disease is the result of any interference with this flow.”
Illya Prigogine
Nobel Prize Recipient

BIOENERGY BALANCING IS:

- SAFE
- PAINLESS
- HOLISTIC
- OFFICE-BASED
- CONVENIENT
- AFFORDABLE

HOW THE SCAN WORKS

So remarkable is the body's drive to maintain balance that even in the face of extreme stress, we are often unaware of imbalances within until the body's coping mechanisms are overloaded and physical symptoms manifest themselves. Bioenergetic testing opens an exciting view into an individual's energetic patterns and is a valuable tool to promote the principles of energetic wellness and balance. This balancing process is important to support the energy systems of the body and determine energetic blocks which may include stress responses to toxins, such as pesticides and chemicals; or issues surrounding defenses to viruses, bacteria, fungi and parasites; or demands for specific vitamins and minerals.

The bioenergetic scan taps into (listens in on) the body's own data communicating pathways and monitors its responses to electrical impulses.

It identifies the Stress Blueprint of the body's energy and assists the practitioner in establishing a treatment protocol to bring the body back into balance. By "looking inside" our patient's bioenergetic field, we can clean up toxins, chemicals, bacteria and allergens; and remove emotional burdens to restore balance. The possibilities of this technology are endless. Your evaluation may include recommendations for natural remedies, stress reduction methods and/or nutritional changes designed to create biochemical change in the body and enhance overall health. The clients have immediate access to the results of their body scan and can discuss nutritional and homeopathic approaches with the practitioner to restore their body's balance. Follow-up tests can then monitor their progress towards better health.

HOW MANY SESSIONS?

BioEnergy Balancing is a process that is soundly based on years of practical and clinical experience in the development of energy balancing technology. Some of the protocols include:

EmOtox Body Balance is a ten-session protocol that assesses and treats "energetic blockages" or "sensitivities" created throughout the body that are associated with a variety of foods and substances.

The Mini Body Balance is a condensed version of the EmOtox protocol and is completed in three sessions.

Customized visits. The SpectraVision technology may be used to investigate specific issues of concern to you. The length of these visits are variable and controlled by you.

Bioenergetic scanning is not covered by insurance.

IS BIOENERGETIC SCANNING DIAGNOSTIC?

Bioenergetic scanning is not diagnostic but it is a valuable tool for detecting imbalances and assessing stress in the body's energy system using galvanic skin response and a unique electro-dynamic data analysis.

Psycho-physiological information is obtained painlessly and without risk. The practitioner and the patient are able to explore the patient's body and its stress patterns and relationships without surgery or x-rays. The practitioner can then develop a unique priority systems, a stress map for each patient.
